The League of Women Voters of Greater Rockford

League of Women Voters

The League of Women Voters is a national non-partisan political organization with over 1,200 local chapters in all fifty states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The League influences public policy through education and advocacy. The League grew out of the National Women Suffrage Association, which led the 72 year drive for a woman's right to vote in the United States.

The League's History

The LWV of the United States began in Chicago at the Congress Hotel on February 14, 1920. Knowing woman suffrage was inevitable, Carrie Chapman Catt urged the National Women Suffrage Association to change direction and help American women to learn about the issues and "be worthy of the privilege of voting."

The League of Women Voters of Rockford was established in 1922 just after the formation of the LWV of the United States. Among the founders of the Rockford League was Julia Lathrop, a woman suffragist and founder of both the national and Illinois League of Women Voters. As early as 1926 when a discrepancy was found in the counting of votes, the League brought about the implementation of training for local election judges, a practice which continues today. Originally named the LWV of Winnebago County, the name was changed to LWV of Rockford in 1953 and to LWV of Greater Rockford in 1998.

Who May Join?

Any citizen, 18 or older, female or male, may join.

Today's Leaguers in Local Politics

The League of Women Voters is a training ground for people in leadership positions and in politics. The League's founders sought to educate the woman voter initially, but that insight also empowered her to seek office in order to make a real contribution to society. Many of today's leaders are members of the League of Women Voters.

When You Join the League, you...

- Learn how government works and how to make your voice heard
- Act on issues of importance
- Strengthen an activist network that shapes public policy
- Will be heard on discussions about timely political issues
- Receive membership benefits such as:
 1. The LWVUS Voter and Action Alerts keeps you one step ahead of the issues.
 2. The LWVIL Voter and ENews covering state legislation, statewide programs, and member activities.
 3. The LWVGR Voter features member events and community issues.
 4. Early notice and education on rapidly changing issues.
 5. The ability to testify on behalf of the League at government meetings.
